** MOVING A PIECE OF MEETEETSE HISTORY **

When the MCD purchased the two properties facing the main drag of town, we knew one property, Lucille's Café, was going to be renovated for our offices, leaving the property to the North for future development. There was a small, stucco-covered house on the property, which was going to be demolished when the time came. After a Board member asked about the status of the building, a search was done and it was decided that the MCD wanted to preserve the log cabin section of the house, which was discovered to be "The McNally Cabin" and was rumored to be the first residence in Meeteetse. The MCD knew it didn't have the resources to demolish the outer layers and then maintain the log cabin, so we offered to donate the building to the Meeteetse Museums. Unfortunately, the museums were unable to take advantage of the opportunity as the time, so the MCD then contacted Old Trail Town in Cody. They had funding in place and within a month, the demolition was complete and the logs were on their way to Old Trail Town, where they will be rebuilt and preserved for anyone to look at. For more information and pictures, feel free to visit the Old Trail Town website at <http://oldtrailtown.org/> or like them on Facebook. The plan is to rebuild during this summer tourist season, so you can drop by and watch it being re-constructed. The address is 1831 Demaris Drive, Cody WY.
